

Cushing Complex: 'Pipeline Crossroads of the World'

Enbridge is one of the largest operators at Cushing, Oklahoma. The Cushing Complex is the world's largest crude oil storage facility, a vital transshipment point on the energy landscape, and the most significant trading hub for North American crude.

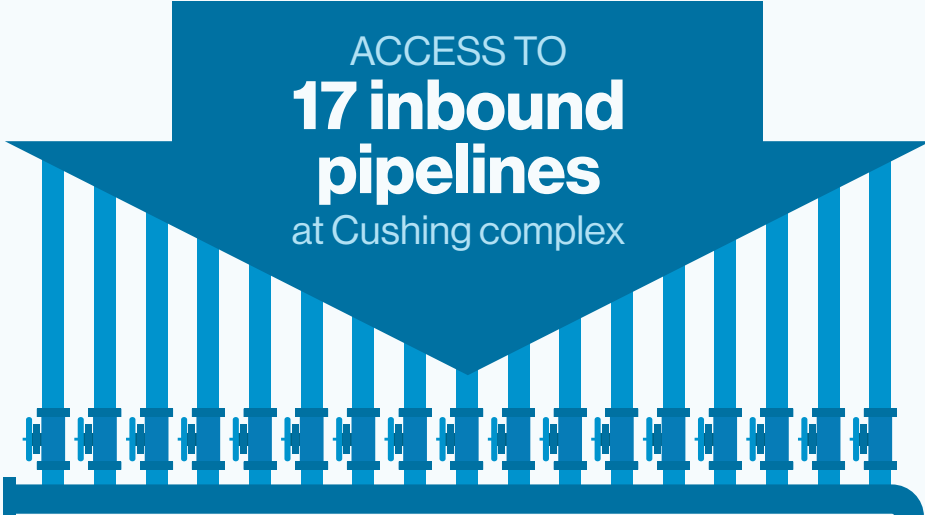

INBOUND

FLOW CAPACITY:

3.04 million
barrels per day,

including 585,000 bpd from
Enbridge's newly completed
Flanagan South pipeline

ACCESS TO 17 inbound pipelines
at Cushing complex

About 20 million barrels of total storage capacity

OUTBOUND

FLOW CAPACITY:

2.73 million
barrels per day,

including 850,000 bpd from
Enbridge's newly completed
Seaway Pipeline twinning project

ACCESS TO 15 outbound pipelines
at Cushing complex

As of January 30, 2015

Through our growing crude oil storage capacity, and the world's longest, most sophisticated crude oil pipeline, Enbridge is connecting producer supply with refiner demand across the continent and helping to fuel North Americans' quality of life.